

Who is the North Carolina Recycling Association?

RANC is a statewide non-profit trade association for those involved in the metals recycling industry in North Carolina. The association, which features both public and private businesses, includes scrap recyclers, equipment vendors and service providers.

Educate

Advocate

Network

Why become a member:

RANC is a robust and dynamic association that supports our members and the recycling industry. Membership is an opportunity to be heard. RANC membership provides resources and access to events where you can meet current and potential customers, suppliers, representatives from local and state governments and community organizations who share an interest in sustainability, resource conservation, recycling and waste reduction.

Visit the membership page at ncrecyclingassociation.org for more information about membership levels and to join the hundreds of recycling professionals that comprise the organization.

Contact:

If you have any questions or comments, please contact the RANC staff at:
Recycling Association of North Carolina

405 Battleground Avenue, Suite 204
Greensboro, NC 27408
336-379-0603
info@ncrecyclingassociation.org

Giving those in the North Carolina
metals recycling industry a voice

ncrecyclingassociation.org

What RANC does

Educate: We organize the largest conference in North Carolina dedicated to creating networking opportunities for recycling professionals and hosting cutting-edge recycling education sessions.

Connect: We connect recycling businesses locally and regionally to increase the amount of materials captured, create jobs and increase revenue in North Carolina.

Inspire: We host meetings and events for recycling professionals throughout the Carolinas to provide information about waste reduction, sustainability and emerging topics for all members.

Inform: Educate and train members on the current laws and serve as a liaison between its members, law enforcement and legislators.

Advocate: We represent the interests of the recycling industry as the main recycling trade organization in North Carolina.

How to get involved

Membership

As a member, you financially support RANC and the association's numerous activities where you can connect and engage with other members in the business of recycling.

Annual Meeting

Attend the annual meeting and join recycling professionals at the largest educational and trade show event in North Carolina. It's a can't-miss event!

Join RANC Leadership

Help shape the future of RANC.

Committees

Much of the work of the RANC is done through committees: Education & Outreach, Annual Meeting, Membership, Fund Development, etc. Volunteers are encouraged to join committees any time to take an active role in the organization.

Events

Attend regional RANC "Connect" social events.

Sponsorship

Are you looking to gain maximum exposure while supporting the recycling industry in the Carolinas? Become an RANC sponsor! Your contribution helps further recycling in the Carolinas in countless ways.

Influencing North Carolina Legislation

Meet our counsel

Bob Saunders

Ed Turlington

Impact of recycling in the Carolinas

Recycling is a robust industry in the Carolinas with over 1,200 recycling businesses that:

- create an estimated 40,000 jobs
- add billions of dollars in economic development every year
- drive innovation and waste reduction
- support manufacturing in the Carolinas
- create jobs and business opportunities
- save resources and allow citizens to make positive contributions and
- enhance the quality of life in NC communities

